

Scenario : You're an average College Student who just had their whole semester moved online which means loads of online homework. How can you keep track of all these new assignments? Well recently your friend has told you about the Super Calendar App that helps keep all your assignments on track and you want to try it out.

Task 1: Log in, create a new assignment, and input its name and class.

Task 2: Turn On notifications.

Task 3: See what you have due next Thursday.

Notes:

Change:

1. Looks weird with a white background on paper, could be fixed but is off putting at first.
2. We have to check the school websites each day to see if there is new stuff to add to the calendar, kinda negating the usefulness.
3. Need ways to choose weekly viewing.

Keep:

1. Good design we liked the simplicity of design being able to input our assignments with ease and add as many as we want
2. Calendar layout is nice and being able to click day is a cool idea.
3. Listing the assignments from closest to being due is useful when you have little time in your day.
